Acknowledgements

The Burnaby Interfaith Network thanks Jan Taylor for her energy and enthusiasm in both founding the Interfaith Network, and in facilitating the community forum which produced this directory.

We also thank our long-standing Chairs Tazul Ali and Don Dyck for their tireless leadership on our behalf.

Finally, we thank local faith leaders and members of the Burnaby community who have engaged in this work – thank you for carrying this work forward and for making change in our community!

If readers notice any updates which need to be made to this directory, please email them to socialplanning@burnaby.ca.

A Message from the Burnaby Interfaith Network

Burnaby is one of Canada's most richly diverse cities. With over 50% of residents born outside of Canada, Burnaby's strong multi-cultural character is on display everywhere. In public services; community agencies; businesses; the arts, Burnaby welcomes and celebrates people from around the world. This diversity is also evident in Burnaby's faith communities with followers of all major faiths making their home and worshipping in this community.

The Burnaby Inter-Faith Network emerged in 2014, as a network of Burnaby citizens who come together to promote inter-faith dialogue and action in Burnaby. We include members of an array of faiths/faith groups as well as community agencies, public services, settlement services, allied inter-faith organizations, and advocacy groups.

The idea of this Directory grew out of a community forum held in February 2019, and organized in partnership with the Burnaby Together – Organizing Against Racism and Hate Network. It is our hope that this Directory will assist individuals and organizations to make community-based connections with faith organizations and vice versa.

To become involved with the Burnaby Interfaith Network, or if you have any questions, please email care of the City of Burnaby at socialplanning@burnaby.ca.

In peace,

Tazul Ali and Don Dyck
Co-Chairs, Burnaby Interfaith Network
